THE FIREWORKS A GREAT HIT

Last Night's Spectators at Fair Enthusiastic in Approval.

Exhibition Will Be Seen Again Tonight Preceded by the Acrobatic Performance of the Cornellas—Angelo Uses Seven Men In Presnting His Pyrotchnic Exhibition and the Result Is Dazzling—Fine Racing Yesterday.

Last night occurred the first exhibition of Joe Aneglo's fireworks at the Central Carolina Fair.

This display proved to be a great hit. In the judgment of many it far exceeded anything of the sort ever given here.

Some idea of the magnitude of the display can be had from the fact that Mr. Angelo has to have seven assistants and these eight men have to work hours in advance to get everything in readiness for the exhibition.

The Battle Between the Merrimac and the Monitor earned the most enthusiastic admiration from the spectators. Among the set pieces was a picture of Robert E. Lee. At first the crowd failed to recognize the likeness, but when it dawned upon them they gave loud and prolonged evidence of their appreciation.

The fireworks will be seen again tonight, preceded by the acrobatic performance of the Cornellas, which also is an exhibition of great merit.

It would be almost impossible to estimate the attendance at the fair grounds yesterday. During the entire day there was a steady stream ot visitors flocking through the gates. Many went during the morning and looked over the exhibits and left before the racing began. It was estimated that 12,000 or 15,000 were on the grounds during the afternoon alone. While the races were in progress the grandstand was packed and jammed with spectators and the midway way packed besides.

The racing was easily the feature of the day. Many lovers of the sport declared that the racing was the best ever seen on the local track, while a number who have visited larger fairs stated that the racing surpassed any they had ever seen. The fastest time was 2:11 1-4, the fastest ever made on the local track and lacking less than half a second of lowering the state record. The track was in fine shape and the entries were pretty well matched. Considerable enthusiasm was shown by the spectators and the drivers were liberally cheered.

The winners in yesterday's events follow:

First event—2:24 pace. Stake, purse, $500. Time 2:11 1-4. First money Zimmerman, entered by H. B. Tyson, Newark, Del.; second Dan P, entered by Geo. Stiles, Rome, Ga.; third and fourth divided between Carrie S, entered by Wallace Moore, Cheraw, S. C. and Louis Gentry, entered by Harry Benedict, E. Aurora, N. Y.

Second event—2:20 pace. Purse $300. Time 2:16 1-4. First money Itero, entered by Edge Hill Farm, Shawville, Va.; second Maj. Viceroy, entered by S. Walton, Falls Mills, Va.; third, Col. Siebert, entered by M. E. Doyle, Lynchburg; fourth Red Top, entered by West View Farm, Winston.

Third event—2:18 trot. Purse $300. Time 2:17 1-4. First money John W, entered by Rouse & Dean, Augusta, Ga.; second Sir Thomas Lipton, entered by Herman Tyson, Newark, Del.; third Astrobel, entered by G. M. Harden, Raleigh; fourth Running Brook, entered by M. E. Doyle, Lynchburg.

The midway was thronged throughout the entire day. The shows were well patronized and everybody seemed to be in fine spirits. Many commented on the clean quality of the attractions Secretary Daniel has gathered for the entertainment of those who like such attractions. The free attractions are highly creditable and afford much pleasure between the races. All three balloons went up yesterday afternoon and the performance will be repeated this afternoon.

Another thing that is encouraging is the interest taken in the exhibits, especially those in the educational and agricultural departments. These buildings were visited by a majority of those who visited the fair yesterday and the comment was altogether favorable. This shows that the people are taking an increased interest in the exhibits and means that the farmers of the county will take greater pride in arranging exhibits in the future. The outlook is that additional space will have to be provided for the agricultural exhibits by next fall as every inch of space was taken this year.

Racing This Afternoon.

The racing this afternoon promises to eclipse that of yesterday. My Shady Belle, who lowered the state record in Winston last week, is entered for the first event this afternoon and the chances are that the previous record will be lowered. The entries for the several events this afternoon follow:

RALPH BINGHAM FUNNY BECAUSE HE CAN'T HELP IT.

This Is What Editor of Philadelphia Newspaper Said of Well Known Entertained.

Ralph Bingham, the noted entertainer, will appear here Monday evening, Oct. 17, in the West Market Annex in the first number of the Greensboro Lyceum course. Mr. Bingham as an entertainer is doubtless without a superior in the country. He will be heard by a large audience. The season tickets sell for $2 until 400 have been sold. Single tickets sell for 50 cents each. If any person wishes a season ticket he should see Mr. E. Poole, Miss Douglas Hendrix, or Mr. W. L. Carter at once as the limit has nearly been reached.

Speaking of Mr. Bingham, who will be the first of the seven numbers in the course, as stated above, the editor of the Talent, a Philadelphia newspaper, says:

"Ralph Bingham is funny because he can't help it. If he went into the undertaking business he would be expelled from the union in a week. He was born to drive dull care away, a doctor who cures by the good old rule of "laugh and grow fat.' And he is one of the few doctors who seem to take their own medicine. On the platform or off, with an audience of one or five hundred, if Mr. Bingham's audience is not shrieking with laughter you may take it for granted that it is composed of deaf-mutes who have not yet learned to read lip movements.

"But what does he do, anyhow? Well, he monologues and plays the violin. His monologues are either original, or might as well be; their rendition, at least, is original and inimitable. His face changes with every shift in the humor; you hardly need to hear the story, for you can see it. He uses many puns, and the pun is said to be the lowest order of wit. But there are puns and puns, and Mr. Bingham's are as near the highest wit as it is possible for a pun to be. He makes use of remarkable metaphors and similes; there is a constant crackling of jokes throughout the monologue, and last but not least the monologue itself is always new."

ANNUAL BANQUET LAST EVENING

University Alumni Around Festal Board.

Normal Faculty and Members of Alumnae Association Guests of Honor—Banquet In Dining Hall of Normal and Menu Prepared by Students of Institution — Number of Addresses by Prominent Speakers — Mr. Scales Toastmaster.

Last evening in the dining hall of the State Normal College the annual banquet of the Guilford Alumni Association of the State University was given. A large number of the Guilford Alumni were present and in addition there were members of other county associations present. The Normal Alumnae and members of the faculty were guests of honor. The invocation was by Rev. Walter Curtis.

The spacious dining hall is a capital place for a banquet and a number of palms and ferns added to the usual attractiveness of the hall. The University colors were observed in the final course served. The entire menu was prepared by students of the institution and the preparation was so thorough that it would have done credit to any chef. The service, also by the young ladies, was as good as could be had in any hotel. In fact these features made the single members of the alumni long to win a member of the fair sex for a housekeeper and it was also evident that they would prefer a graduate of the Normal.

Following the banquet Dr. J. E. Brooks, president of the Guilford Alumni, introduced Mr. A. M. Scales, toastmaster. It was then 10:30 and as six of the speakers were due speeches of 20 minutes each, Mr. Scales took the liberty to state that none of the speakers need consume the allotted time unless they so desired.

Each speaker responded to the toast assigned him briefly, but in a comprehensive manner. The remarks of each were interspersed with witticisms that evoked peals of laughter. The talks were of an edifying nature and each one felt doubly repaid for gracing the occasion with his or her presence. After the toasts were responded to State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner and Dr. J. I. Foust were called on for a few remarks, after which several guests and alumni were called on.

The toasts were as follows:

Hon. Hannis Taylor, The University, the Guide of My Footsteps.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, The State and Education.

Dr. Hubert A. Royster, Education and its Counterfeits.

Hon. Zebulon V. Walser, Michigan and Carolina.

Dr. Francis P. Venable, The University.

Mr. Wiley H. Swift, Progress in Education.

GEN. ARMFIELD DEAD

Passed Away Last Night At His Home in Statesville.

Adjutant General Joseph F. Armfield died last night at 7:15 o'clock at his home in Statesville. Capt. E. D. Kuykendall, of the Guilford Grays, received a telegram announcing Gen. Armfield's death. Capt. Kuykendall will attend the funeral, which will be military and will be held Friday afternoon at Statesville.

Gen. Armfield had stomach and kidney complications, believed to be very largely the effects of a severe attack of typhoid fever he underwent two years ago.

Important Notice.

Will every housewife and every merchant have the leaves swept off the sidewalk in front of their door every morning this week. The appearance will be if this is done very much better. The leaves are falling on the sidewalks and North Elm street, West Market street, Summit avenue and Asheboro street need attention. We urgently request that the walks be put in good condition during the fair.

THE MEMORY OF M'IVER HONORED

Interesting Exercises at Normal College.

Beautiful Tribute Paid Distinguished Educator by Editor Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh—Greetings Sent by Alumnae From All Parts of State—Large Audience Present—Portrait of Mrs. Cornelia Spencer Presented Last Evening.

Founder's Day at the State Normal and Industrial College was fittingly observed yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, the feature of the exercises being an address by Editor Josephus Daniels, of the News and Observer. There were also greetings from the State University and the A. & M. College at Raleigh and from alumnae associations in nearly every county in the state.

The exercises were held in the Students' building, the large auditorium being well filled with the students, alumnae and visitors. An appropriate musical program was carried out. Dr. J. I. Foust, president of the college, presided and first introduced Rev. J. Walter Long, pastor of Spring Garden Street Methodist church, who made the invocation. Dr. Foust in introducing the speaker of the occasion, Mr. Daniels, said that Founder's Day was in reality a rally day for the college for on this day the thoughts of young women in all parts of the state and even in other states who had come in touch with the influence and ideals of the institution were turned towards the founder of the institution and the college as well. The best thing the college possesses, he said, is the memory of the life of self sacrifice of Dr. Charles Duncan McIver. He introduced Mr. Daniels as a man who was closely associated with the great educational leader.

Mr. Daniels began his address by saying that this was a day, not for sorrow, but for gladness. That he had not come to do violence to the sunny nature and cheerful spirit of the founder of the college by making the day an occasion of mourning. He spoke of his friendship to Dr. McIver, the friendship from early manhood in which they were linked together by hooks of steel. He said that the most gifted orators of America have found McIver a worthy theme for eloquence, and he could not hope to add to their noble tribute. McIver poured his life into the institution he founded, and gave himself fully to every good cause that promised to bless the State. If his spirit could be present on Founder's Day it would be one of cheerfulness, and he would have his friends not sorrow for his passing, but go forward with the great work he began.

Mr. Daniels discussed "McIver's Woman," and showed how he brought the new conception of woman's place in our North Carolina life. Most men are willing to help women provided women will do as they say, but McIver was different and had the wisdom to say that the best help a man can render a woman is to help her in the ways her intuition directs her to walk. The old education had no place for women except in the home, leaving out of account women to whom marriage is not the divine call. McIver's idea of helping women embraced all womankind, whether in the home, in the school, in the profession, on the farm—everywhere she felt the call to service. His scheme of education of woman did not leave out accomplishment, but his deep stress was laid upon the training that fitted her for the life work for which she felt herself called. He stimulated her ambition in lines of her own choosing, and made smooth the paths in which she elected to walk. He had the genuine spirit of chivalry, but he recognized that woman was made to be an economical factor in our work-a-day world, and he consecrated himself to securing for her a square deal, denied her through all generations. He revolutionized North Carolina sentiment as to woman's education. There has never been any argument as powerful as consecration to a cause. The man who like McIver backs up his faith by pouring his life into the cause, offers an argument that cannot be answered or sucessfully opposed. The fact that McIver laid his life on the altar of the gospel, "Better Chance for Woman," has made converts of those who might not have accepted his arguments. You cannot withstand the man who has got a great truth and made it incarnate in himself. That is what McIver did, and that gave him immortality.

Mr. Daniels then spoke of McIver's vision of the college, which was as clear to him before the brick had been laid as it is to our eyes today. He paid a tribute to his wife who shared with him that vision, and cheered him through the days of anxiety and difficulty. He discussed the various lines of effort in which McIver had led women who had been trained at this college. He helped women to find themselves and to rise superior to the limitations which man has laid upon her. His consuming passion was a deep partiotism in its largest sense. He thought every educated woman must be a good citizen to be the best wife, the best teacher, the best worker in any department of life. No man has lived among us that had such true knowledge of woman's power, and no man of his generation so powerfully impressed his faith in woman's large capacity. He had the breadth to see that women knew better what they could do and what they ought to do than any man could know. And he helped her to find her place and to do her work in her own way. And he thought her own way was better than by following any maxims which he or anybody else might formulate. His views of the relationship that should exist between man and woman was sane and sensible. He broadened the horizon of every woman whose life he touched, and powerfully multiplied the service which women render to their generation.

Prof. M. C. S. Noble, of the State University, was then introduced and he extended greetings from the faculty and 800 "tar heels" of the University, which institution was, he said, in reality the mother of all kindred institutions in the State. Prof. W. A. Withers, of the Agricultural and Mechanical College in Raleigh, extended greetings from the faculty and students of that institution.

President Foust then read seventy-five or more letters and telegrams received from alumnae associations and former students from all parts of North Carolina and from some who have left the bounds of the State.

The exercises closed with the singing of "Carolina" and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Long.

Presentation of Portrait.

Last evening in the auditorium of the Students' building before an audience that completely filled the auditorium the portrait of Mrs. Cornelia Phillips Spencer was presented to the college by Dr. Francis P. Venable, president of the State University. This was accepted by Dr. J. Y. Joyner, state superintendent of education and ex-officio chairman of the board of trustees of the Normal College.

Prior to the presentation Hon. Hannis Taylor, LL. D., of Washington City, delivered a magnificent address touching on the life of Mrs. Spencer. He stated that it was Mrs. Spencer who had taught him when he first went to Chapel Hill and therefore he knew her well and loved her better. The speaker gave a number of reminiscences of his early life as a prelude to a brief outline of the life of usefulness given by Mrs. Spencer to the institution she loved so well. He spoke with touching pathos of the struggle in which she participated to uphold the honor of the institution just after the Civil war. In honoring Mrs. Spencer by presenting this handsome oil painting to this college the alumni of the State University honor themselves, he said. This portrait is sent here to become a beacon light to the hearts of the young ladies who are undertaking the task of following in the footsteps of this noble woman. Mrs. Spencer was a typical American woman, he said, and he then gave his definition of what a typical American woman is. He traced back through the ages to the times of the German barbarian women, who were models of chastity and purity, who in the time of Christ became imbued with Christianity, and these, he said are responsible for the highest type of American womanhood today. Before concluding the speaker warned the women present to let politics alone. They belittle your high character and cause you to give up better things, he said. The address was a fitting tribute to the memory of Mrs. Spencer.

The portrait was then unveiled by Dr. Venable, the entire audience rising as a mark of honor to the great woman. Dr. Joyner then accepted the potrait in behalf of the college and the exercises closed with the singing of Carolina.

Alumnae Association Meets.

The Alumnae Association met yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock with a large and enthusiastic attendance. Mrs. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourne, vice president, presided. The principal address was by Dr. Foust, in which he outlined future plans

LOCAL HIGHS BEAT BINGHAM

First Football Game of The Season.

Greensboro An Easy Winner the Score Being 23 to 0—Bingham Players Heavier Than Greensboro's But Later Had Speed and Team Work—Bingham and Raleigh High School Tied a Game Last Week.

Yesterday afternoon the football team representing Greensboro High School celebrated its first appearance on the gridiron for this season by defeating the team from Bingham School, of Mebane. The score was: Greensboro, 23, Bingham 0. Four touchdowns were carried across the line by the hard line plunges and swift end runs of the local team. Coffin succeeding in kicking three goals in three difficult chances.

Bingham was the heavier by several pounds, but this was more than offset by the speed and teamwork of the local team. The teams were about equal in the point of gaining ground, both winning first down about six times. But Greensboro's gains were steadier, her punts longer and more productive, as was evidenced by the fact that Bingham had only two chances to score, once in the third quarter when Greensboro captured the ball on downs on the five yard line, and immediately punted to safe territory, and, again in the fourth quarter, the ball was carried to the thirty-five yard line, where Capt. Taylor attempted a drop kick for goal, which fell short.

Greensboro's entire team worked steadily, but special praise is given to Coffin, Foust and Grimsley. Coffin's kicking and all-round work, Foust's tackling and Grimsley's long runs were the shining features of a game which was replete with good work. For Bingham, brilliant playing was done by Capt. Taylor. The line-up and account of the game follows:

Greensboro.	Position.	Bingham.
Lindau	r. e.	Daughtridge
Dixon	r. t.	Mitchell (Taylor)

The Officials.

Greensboro won the toss and chose to defend the north goal. The quarters were divided into ten minutes each. Mr. Anthem was chosen referee; Mr. Groome umpire; and Mr. Muir, head linesman. The timekeepers were Messrs. Phillips and Harry.

The First Quarter.

Bingham kicked to Grimsley, who by a nice run, advanced the ball to the thirty yard line. A couple of line plunges and end runs were attempted by the High School backs, but, being unsuccessful in producing the necessary ten yards Coffin punted and Bingham received the ball on her own thirty yard line. Bingham, also playing straight football, tried end runs but lost ground and punted. Greensboro captured the ball and held it until the end of the quarter.

The Second Quarter.

Greensboro, on the forty yard line and attacking the north goal, punted and Lindau captures the ball on Bingham's eight yard line. Grimsley, on an end, run scored the first touchdown. Although at a difficult angle, Coffin kicked the goal.

Coffin put the ball into play by a long kick, and Bingham was downed on her twenty-five yard line. Bingham attempted line plunging but was unsuccessful and used a forward pass to gain the necessary ten yards. More line runs followed and Bingham was forced to punt. Coffin caught the ball and Greensboro started a march down the field. The first ten yards were covered in two rushes. A forward pass netted fourteen

DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY

NORTH CAROLINA DIVISION.
Mrs. F. M. Williams, President.
Newton, N. C., Sept. 7, 1910.

To the North Carolina Division U. D. C.

The appeal comes to us from the United Confederate Veterans to aid them in erecting a Monument to the Women of the Confederacy—a call that should be answered by the hearty co-operation of not only every Chapter but of every individual daughter in the Old North State.

In aiding in the erection of this Monument we are not erecting a monument to ourselves, for it is a mere handful of the women of the sixties now enlisted under the banner of the U. D. C. It is to the memory of our beloved mothers and grandmothers that monument is to stand. Great, noble and true as is the life story of the Confederate soldier, it is still with a greater brilliancy that the life of the women of the Confederacy will ever shine forth upon history's page.

Daughters of North Carolina let us, one and all, rise in our might in answer to this call of the Veterans. Let us second them in their every endeavor. Let us adopt the very good plans which they are suggesting for raising money for this cause, and hasten to do their bidding.

Let each one remember the mother that bore, with patient smiles and uncomplaining lips, the tortures of endless waitings, the denials of all the luxuries to which she was accustomed, aye even food and raiment, to aid and uphold the men at the front. Women who, with brave hearts, bid fathers, brothers, husbands, sweethearts go forth and battle for the right, well knowing that many would nevermore return.

Take success as your watchword, and work diligently and untiringly for the Monument to the noble Women of the Confederacy.

PROTEST AGAINST HASTY MARRIAGE

Declare That Indiscriminate Marriages Are An Abuse That Has Amounted to a Reproach.

Rockville, Md., Oct. 10.—The various ministers of Rockville have received letters signed by a large number of the women of the community calling upon them to help the civil authorities in their efforts to have the marriage laws more carefully administered in Rockville. The indiscriminate marriages in Rockville are referred to as "an abuse that has amounted to reproach upon our town and county," and the ministers are urged to decline to marry any person unless one of the parties is known to the minister or is vouched for by a reputable person who is personally known to the minister. The letter in full follows:

"Referring to the recent order of the county clerk prohibiting the issuance of marriage licenses after office hours, which order has received favorable comment by the press and public generally, we beg leave to appeal to the ministers of our churches, individually and collectively, to supplement the effort of the civil authorities to correct an abuse that has amounted to a reproach upon our town and county by declining to marry any persons, even when licensed to wed, unless at least one of the parties is known to the minister, or who is vouched for by a reputable citizen who is personally known to the minister.

"Many of these applicants are too young to enter upon such a sacred relatino, while a goodly number are fleeing parental authority; hence, by marrying, such a home is founded upon a broken commandment, viz: "Honor thy father and thy mother," and no home can prosper that defies the commandment written by the finger of God. We are taught by St. Paul that marriage is honorable among all men, and the canons of one church teach that it is "therefore not to be entered into unadvisedly or lightly, but reverently, discreetly, advisedly and soberly, in the fear of God.'

"We respectfully submit that a majority of the marriages in Rockville of those not residents of this county are not of this character, coming at unseasonable hours and in unseemly haste, and in many instances, causing sorrow and shame to their parents. We beg to call to your attention some newspaper items which show how frequently the name of Rockville appears in unfavorable mention; also that the matter was the subject of a bill introduced in the last legislature, and we understand that similar bills have been presented to the legislatures of other states. If our ministers will assent to this appeal they will right a wrong and receive the hearty commendation of their congregations and a blessing will come to our community."

Forced To Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Justice is often pale and melancholy; but Gratitude, her daughter, is constantly in the flow of spirits and the bloom of loveliness.—Landor.

"It Beats All."

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Sold by Howard Gardner.

No, Maude, dear; we have never heard that the sad sea moans because it has a corn on its undertow.

Kills a Murderer.

A merciless murderer is Appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Chills. 25c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

J 86

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

A Quick Revenge

By NELLY TRIMMINGHAM

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

A farmer's boy was driving along a road when he overhauled a man walking in the same direction.

"Have a lift, stranger?"

"Reckon I will if you don't mind. How far you goin'?"

"Oh, 'm goin' as far as Hobbsville, mebbe farther."

The man got up on the front seat with the boy, and the two jogged along together. There was a desultory conversation about the state of the crops when the boy urged his horse on.

"Git up, Tom! I don't want to be ridin' round here after dark with money in my pocket and holdups comin' off every few days."

The passenger smiled. "My boy, you don't want to take up strange people for travelin' companions and tell 'em you've got funds about you. How d'y' know but I'm a footpad myself?"

"You ain't no footpad."

The passenger turned and surveyed the boy. He might have been anywhere between eighteen and twenty-five, but his companion, noticing that he had no beard, surmised that the lower figure was nearer the truth.

"You're right, boy," he said. "I ain't no footpad, but I'm worse 'n a footpad. I've had several scraps with people hereabout, and the sheriff would give you $5,000 if you could land me."

"You don't mean it! Who mought you be?"

"I'm Skinner."

"Jack Skinner as killed Ben Andrews and Bill Harrison and Andy Parker?"

Skinner noticed that the boy spoke the last name with some emotion.

"What was Parker to you?" he asked quickly.

"Oh, I only knowed him; that's all. What made you kill him?"

"I was kind o' upset that day. I wanted him to drink with me, and he wouldn't. Parker wasn't much of a man anyway!"

"Did y' ever see his wife?"

"No. Is she a good lookin' woman?"

"You bet! She tuk on bad when you killed Andy."

"I heered that, and I heered she said she was goin' to kill me for killin' her husband."

"Waal, ef Mrs. Parker said that y'd better keep outer her way."

"Oh, wimmin always talk that way when they git a grudge!"

"But I heered Mrs. Parker has been practicin' and has got to be a mighty quick shot."

"That's all right. She won't do nothin'. A woman never does. It's all talk with 'em. They ain't built that way."

"What's this y' was sayin' about the sheriff payin' any one that'll land y'. Ain't y' worth as much dead as alive?"

"Reckon," replied Skinner, looking aside at the boy uneasily. "What put that into your curly head?"

"Waal, I thort that ef Mrs. Parker's goin' to kill y' she'd git the money for the children you made orphans of."

Skinner was puzzled at this grewsome remark coming from a country boy. He turned and looked his companion over scrutinizingly. Satisfied that the lad was very simple, he dismissed the matter from his mind.

"Reckon," said the boy, "I'll water the horse at this trough. Whoa, Tom!" And, pulling up, he got down, unloosed the check rein and let the animal drink. Skinner caught sight of something on the other side of the road and half turned. Suddenly he was brought to his surroundings by hearing two clicks. As he turned his right hand flew to his hip. He was too late. The boy was standing facing him, covering him with a pair of revolvers.

"Hands up!"

"That's yer game, is it?" said Skinner. "You kid, you want to make the money offered for me." He made a move to put up his hands. A bullet went crashing through the wrist of the hand that was eager to spring to his revolver. He writhed with pain and ire, but with his best hand disabled dared make no move.

"Hands up!" the boy again said calmly.

"Here, you little devil," said Skinner, "let up on this, and I'll make it worth your while. You can't expect to land Tom Skinner"—

"I've landed you already, Tom Skinner, and you're doomed. I'm goin' to kill you, not for the money offered for you, but to revenge Andy."

"You his kid?"

"His wife!"

When a man looks at a woman who holds his life in her hands he usually expects to see mercy. Tom Skinner looked into the two eyes of Mrs. Parker and saw no more mercy there than in the two barkers she held in her hand. For the first time in his life he whitened.

"I've been followin' you all day," she said. "I waited till I got you on a stretch of road where there wasn't likely to be any one to interfere with the little love letters I'm goin' to send you."

"Ain't you goin' to run me in for trial?"

"No."

But when she tried to shoot the man down in cold blood her woman's nature revolted. She marched him into the village near by, and when some of the men there saw what she had done they relieved her of the necessity of ending Tom Skinner's murderous career.

Hundreds pass through gates of fair Tuesday, says the Register talking about the Danville fair. Hundreds only? Well, you ought to see a real fair.

Charlotte had a very handsome growth in the last decade—88 per cent. It is true that the Queen City had trebled its area since the last census was taken but with all allowances our sister city has just cause to feel proud of itself.

Oh, by the way, we have been so busy telling about what Winston-Salem is doing, we almost forgot to tell you that Marion Butler is the real head of the Republican party in North Carolina.—Winston Journal.

The Journal wants to be careful how it gets away from the main issue. It should beware how it lets its attention get diverted by non-essentials.

As if the hobble skirt was not bad enough fashion has evolved "the spool skirt." This new "wrinkle" (we had started to say monstrosity) derives its name from its belt which is a long strip of silk wound about the figure after the frock is put on. Men who have had their patience tried with their wives' waists which button up the back will probably take to the woods when they find that it requires a matter of twenty minutes and the most careful, concentrated attention to wind their wives up in the spool gown.

"How many a bubble doth calm reason prick,
Scorning the fool who tries to 'Get-Rich-Quick.'
Such lesson learnt, much wiser men would make
And leave but few to chase each new dressed fake."

—From "An Appeal to Reason" Pamphlet sent broadcast by The Interstate Land and Building Co-operative Association of No. 261 Broadway, New York City.

Good sense in the verse, but it turned out that the gentlemen who claim to be able to tell you how to get rich slowly and surely are themselves often times the biggest sort of robbers. While this "Interstate" concern was enjoining its victims not to seek to get rich quickly, it was loading them up with worthless stock. The company has been thrown into bankruptcy with every evidence of a fraud that will cost investors $100,000 and possibly a greater amount. Some of the "don'ts" solicitously circulated by these unusually deceptive swindlers were as follows:

"Don't take a flyer; remember the other fellow stays on the ground while you are 'away up.'"

"Don't put money in new inventions. They will remain new when you are very old."

"Don't invest in a gold mine; the gold takes too long coming to the surface. You can get it quicker at your bank."

"Don't speculate in Wall street. Poker is more entertaining and you save the commissions."

"Don't put your money out for profit or interest without security that is under your own and absolute control."

To this latter should be added, Don't put your money out for profit with any old thing that comes along seeking it.

What will science do next? Really it is to gasp when one watches its strides. It is never safe to say that this or that is the "latest," for science never rests and never sleeps, but at any rate it may be said that a "late" discovery is that by a bacteriologist of Brown University who has invented a microbe trap. It is claimed for the trap that it will do away with the necessity of boiling suspected water or milk to kill the dangerous microbes and the person drinking the liquid after the microbes have been trapped and separated from it will know that it is clear of the microbes instead of being filled with their dead bodies as is the case when they are killedby the boiling process. The bacteriologist thus explains this wonderful new trap:

There is not the slightest doubt that certain types of microbes are attracted by oxygen, are fond of it, we may say. If a current of electricity is passed through water, oxygen is liberated around one of the wires through which the current is brought into the tank. Bacteria will immediately be attracted to the wire where this gas is generated.

The trap is, of course, separate from the main vessel, and if the current is kept on and the temperature is suitable the main receptable may be purified. Something of this sort has already been done in France. A current of electricity was passed through water to form ozone, and this ozone destroyed, instead of trapping, the microbes. The trap might be of great help in concentrating bacterial life in a large quantity of liquid to make cultures for further examination.

It may be that with experiments the microbe trap may prove as satisfactory for careful work as the culture is today. There is no question that by the use of electricity microbes can be attracted from the liquid they inhabit or killed in it by the generation of ozone.

Today a Holiday With the Jews.

Today is a holiday with the Jews—Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement. The day is considered one of final reconciliation of the soul with God and ends the ten days of repentance following the Jewish New Year or Rosh Hashonah. The Jewish stores of the city will be closed today until sundown, the holiday starting from sundown last evening.

Enjoyable Dance Last Evening.

Last evening in the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club the annual german was given, this event being the social feature of fair week. A large number of couples were present to participate and the dancing lasted until after midnight. The dance was said to be one of the most enjoyable ever given by the club. At midnight a light luncheon was served.

Did Big Business.

The Public Service Company did a big business yesterday. It was estimated that between ten and twelve thousand people patronized the cars yesterday, but all were transported to their destination without delay and the service was all that could be desired. Double and triple headers were operated between court square and the fair grounds in order to accommodate the patrons of the fair.

Real Estate Deals.

Mr. T. B. Ogburn has sold for Mr. C. W. McFarland his farm near Summerfield. Prof. T. E. Whitaker, of Oak Ridge, was the purchaser. Mr. Radabaugh has sold to Mrs. Margaret Cable, of Elon College, a house and lot on Silver Run avenue. Mrs. Cable will move to Greensboro the first of the year. This deal was engineered by Mr. Ogburn also.

PARSLEY SUPERSTITIONS.

Sinister Beliefs Associated With the Plant In England.

Many superstitions are connected with the herb parsley, probably through an ancient Greek practice, the graves of the dead being strewn with it and the plant thereby gaining a sinister significance.

In Hampshire it is considered very unlucky to give a root of this herb away, since they say that if this be done ill luck will fall upon them. In Devonshire to transplant parsley is likewise to commit a serious offense against the guardian genius who presides over the plants. In Suffolk it is said that if parsley be sown on Good Friday it will grow well and flourish, but if it be sown on any other day it will not come double.

In Shropshire they have a saying that where parsley grows in the garden "th' missis is master." In Buckinghamshire parsley is regarded as a somewhat uncanny herb, and an old gardener once assured me on hearing me lament that the seed I had sown had not come up that it was necessary to sow parsley for nine times before one could get any to grow. This saying I have heard later in Shropshire, where they say the devil takes all but the last. Likewise, too, in Shropshire they say that to transplant parsley will bring about a death.—Westminster Review.

Man wants but little here below, but he frequently wants a fresh supply of it.

of the institution and asked the aid of the alumnae in carrying the plans to a successful culmination. When he spoke of the contemplated work the alumnae grew quite enthusiastic and each member of the association pledged her efforts to the work. Before adjournment the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

On this day, when visitors and alumnae join with the students and the faculty of our college in honoring the name of Dr. Charles D. McIver who so magnanimously gave his life to uplift the womanhood of our State and who said, "No state which will once educate its mothers need have any fear about future illiteracy." it seems especially appropriate that we, the Alumnae of the State Normal College, who feel an untold debt to our Alma Mater and who wish, in any and every way, to help her blot out the illiteracy of our State, should form the following resolutions:

First—That we shall use every opportunity to make the State feel the needs of our college and to secure from the State a liberal maintenance for our Alma Mater which has, every year so far, been forced to close her doors against women who, without the help of the State, must go without an education.

Second—That we, by our daily lives and work shall endeavor to emulate and to infuse into the lives of others that spirit of service, of self-sacrifice, which was so beautifully taught and practiced by our founder, Dr. McIver, whose message for us is "Live more abundantly through more abundant service, striving hopefully for the larger things of life."

Third—That we Alumnae who are present at this meeting shall ask the county associations of Alumnae throughout the State to join with us in striving to live lives worthy of our founder, and to bring about the day when, with proper aid from the State, every woman may have the opportunity of an education.

more. Coffin makes first down again by a line rush. Another rush by Coffin and an end run by Grimsley netted the second touchdowned. A goal by Coffin followed. Ireland took Turner's tacgle and Greensboro kicked to Bingham who soon lost the ball. Time was called after Greensboro had advanced the ball well down the field. This was Greensboro's best quarter. Score, Greensboro 12, Bingham 0.

The Third Quarter.

Bingham came back strong in this session and very nearly succeeded in scoring. Atkinson received Greensboro's kick-off and on a return kick Bingham caps the ball on her forty-yard line. A forward pass, two line plunges, a fake play, and a penalty all aided in carrying the ball to Greensboro's five yard line, where it was taken by Greensboro and kicked out of danger. Bingham held the ball until time was called and, although several good gains were made, they were held scoreless.

The Fourth Quarter.

Greensboro, with fresh men in both line-ups, again began scoring. Bingham was defending the north goal. Her first play, a forward pass, was caught by Grimsley, who made a beautiful run to the five yard line. A line plunge, an end run, and McDuffie carried the ball over on the next play. The try for goal was a failure. Bingham sends the kick-off to the south goal, where it was received by Grimsley and carried twenty yards. By a forward pass, two line rushes and an end run, Bingham carried the ball to the thirty-five yard line, where Taylor missed a drop kick for goal. Greensboro carried the ball from her twenty-five yard line in to their opponent's territory, where an unsuccessful forward pass gave Bingham the ball. In return, Grimsley, takes another forward pass from Bingham and runs ten yards. Greensboro was forced to punt and Ralph, receiving the ball for Bingham, was downed in his tracks on the two yard line by Lindau. Bingham attempted to kick, but Foust blocked the ball, knocking it across the goal line and recapturing it for a touchdown. Coffin kicked goal. The ball was again put into play but only for a few moments. When time was called Bingham held the ball about the middle of the field. Several fresh Greensboro men entered the contest in this quarter, Murray taking left end, Taylor right tackle and Spearman playing right guard, all applicants to the team receiving a fair try-out. Score for the quarter, Greensboro 11, Bingham 0.

By this game Greensboro is able to compare her strength with the team of the Capitay City High School, as Bingham and Raleigh tied a game last week.

MRS. HATTIE KIRBY

Her Funeral Tuesday In Danville—A Noble Christian Character.

Danville Register.

The remains of Mrs. Hattie Kirby, of Greensboro, who died at St. Leo's hospital at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, were brought here yesterday for interment. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. S. Maxey, pastor of the Sledd Memorial Methodist church and interment was made in Green Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Kirby was an old resident of Leaksville, and moved to Greensboro about seven years ago, where she made her home up until the time of her death. She was twenty-four years of age and died following an illness of typhoid fever at St. Leo's hospital in Greensboro.

Mrs. Kirby was a noble christian character and loved by all who knew her. She is survived by four brothers and one sister: Mrs. R. S. Hardy, of Stony Mills, Va.; Messrs. Swanson and Hobson McBride, of Danville, and Reynolds and Nelson McBride, of Leaksville. She is also survived by a husband and three children, Mr. C. S. Kirby and Claude, Ruth and Virginia Catherine Kirby.

The pall bearers were Messrs. J. L. Walker, T. A. Campbell, Tom Adams, T. R. Campbell, H. D. Terdue, of Danville, and Mr. A. D. Jones, of Greensboro. The flowers were carried by seven little girls.

SENIOR SENATOR A VISITOR

Mr. Simmons Here Yesterday Leaving Last Night For Lexington—Will Speak Here Later In the Campaign.

Senator F. M. Simmons was here yesterday, leaving last night for Lexington to make a speech.

Senator Simmons on account of illness was compelled to cancel his engagement to speak here night before last. But he said yesterday that he would surely speak here before the close of the campaign. He is just out from a severe attack of malaria.

Asked as to how the political situation looked to him, he said that the Democrats would carry the State overwhelmingly if the vote was gotten out.

When the Senator was State Chairman that was his strong point—getting out the vote. It is said that he had an organization the most complete ever attempted in this State and that when the election rolled around the fruits of his efforts to get out the vote was always apparent.

Senator Simmons believes that Marion Butler is relying on the negro more than any other Republican leader has done since the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment. Negroes are turning out in numbers to hear Butler wherever he speaks, says Senator Simmons.

A NOVEL INTRODUCTION.

The Dr. Howard Co. have entered into an arrangement with Howard Gardner's drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's Specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that Howard Gardner will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

Howard Gardner has been able to secure only a limited supply, so every one who wishes to be cured of dyspepsia or constipation should call upon him at once or send him 25 cents by mail and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half-price introductory offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if the specific does not cure.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R .R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S. C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

When you come to the big Fair this week take a look at our remodeled and greatly improved store. Also it might be profitable for you to come in and let us show you through our big line of new Fall and Winter goods. We have been entirely too busy to get up a display at the Fair this year—in fact we have had more customers than we could wait on ever since the cooler weather set in,—but if you will come to the store you can see decidedly the largest and best stock of Dry Goods, Shoes, Carpets, Rugs, Mattings and Notions we have ever had the pleasure of showing you.

FOUR PER CENT. PAID ON SAVINGS DEPOSITS.—FOUR PER CENT.

THE DIFFERENCE

between a dollar saved and a dollar spent is just two dollars. Did it ever occur to you that way? It's worth thinking about.

Another difference is the feeling you have afterward. The dollar saved gives you a feeling of real pleasure—it may call for a little sacrifice for the time being, but afterward you feel better for having denied yourself and the dollar is still yours. That is the nice thing about having money in the bank—you have saved it—it is still yours—you can have it when you wish.

We make it a part of our business to urge you to have a bank account at this bank, for it not only helps our business but yours more so.

STUPID PEOPLE.

Couldn't Tell What Grew Up Straight and Was Served on Toast.

Never ask any one to supply you with a missing word, says a writer in the Atchison Globe, and if the experience which he relates is typical it is good advice. A woman was engaged recently in writing a letter to a friend, in which she was telling of what they had to eat at a party. She was getting along very well when all of a sudden she stopped to think. "What," she called to her family, "is that green stuff that grows up straight?"

"Evergreen trees," some one replied.

"Oh, no," said the woman; "I mean something to eat."

"Onions," was the reply.

"No," she said, "not onions."

"Lettuce," "beans," "peas," and so on, were all called out by the family, all anxious to supply the missing word.

"None of them is right," said the woman. Then she tried a new tack.

"What is it," she said, "they serve on toast?"

"Poached eggs," said one member of the family.

"Jam," said another.

Then the woman got up, tore her letter into pieces and put the thing off till later on.

Three days later she was in a grocery store and saw something marked "15 cents a bunch" that sent her running all the way home.

"It was asparagus!" she cried. "I should think some of you might have known it was asparagus! Didn't I say it grew up straight and was served on toast?"

in any calling of life, demands a vigorous body and a keen brain. Without health there is no success. But Electric Bitters is the greatest Health Builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work. ROYAL ACCOUNTS.

Methods of the King of England In Transacting Business.

No advertisement is more valuable to a British tradesman than the royal warrant, which allows him to place the royal arms over his place of business and describe himself as "purveyor by appointment to his majesty the king."

Each tradesman who has the royal custom must send in his bill at the end of the month. It is compared with his ledger account kept at Marlborough House and if correct is paid in the first week of the month. No discount is asked on any of the royal accounts. A tradesman who receives the royal custom is informed that he must supply goods at the lowest reasonable prices, and there is never any attempt at bargaining by the official of the royal household. If a tradesman is thought to be making extortionate charges he simply loses the royal custom.

Coal is supplied to Marlborough House by contract, the contracts being made for three years and the contractors paid in equal half yearly payments. Window cleaning, carpet cleaning and chimney sweeping are all done by contract, and the glass frames of large pictures are also kept clean by contract.

Servants' wages are paid monthly, the upper servants being paid by check sent to each from the treasurer's department. The king's accounts for clothes, cigars, theaters, newspapers, books and other personal articles are sent to his secretary, not the treasurer, and are also paid monthly.—Toronto Times.

CORE OF THE EARTH.

One of the Enigmas of Nature That Science Cannot Solve.

Human beings know only a mere skin of the surface of the earth, not more than thirty miles deep, while the globe is 8,000 miles in diameter. There is probably no oxygen at all below thirty miles, and it is difficult to guess what are the elements within. Probably the heaviest elements form a dense core near the center.

It is in some respects astonishing, most alarming, that we are so completely devoid of any direct knowledge of the constituents of the vast mass of globe beneath us and really only know the merest film. A skin or membrane one-twentieth of an inch in thickness (the thickness of kid or brown paper) spread over a ball a little more than a foot in diameter represents the proportion between the the known crust of the earth thirty miles thick and the great globe itself.

We are dependent on inference and speculation for our notions as to the constitution of all that is beneath the mere skin of thirty miles thickness on the globe's surface! Even what is thrown up by the biggest volcanoes does not come from below this depth or tell us what lies hidden there.—Exchange.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It gives just as much heat as you desire. It is safe, odorless and smokeless.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. Burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and can always be easily unscrewed for rewicking.

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not need to be screwed down, but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. TO AILING WOMEN.

Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Greensboro.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the urine when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidney and bladder get inflamed and swollen, crowding the delicate female organs nearby and sometimes displacing them. This is the true cause of many bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, sideache, etc. Uric poisoning, also causes headaches, dizzy spells, lanquor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that cures sick kidneys. You will get better as the kidneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a fellow sufferer tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Ella. J. Hughes, Dixie St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at different times for several years and they have never failed to give me prompt relief. Some time ago I suffered from severe pains in the small of my back and I had frequent spells of dizziness, caused by disordered kidneys. I finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they quickly removed the cause of all my suffering. I have had slight returns of the trouble since but Doan's Kidney Pills always bring satisfactory relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's —and take no other.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid. WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

YOU LOOK OLD!

In nine cases out of ten it is not because you are old, but because you are tired, all worn out, and you act as if you just wondered how you are going to get through the season and do your work.

This condition may be caused by a run-down and debilitated condition, or by a bad cold which has left you without strength or ambition.

We want to ask every such person to try Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil. If it does not build you up and make you feel young, strong and well again, we will return your money you paid us for it. Isn't that fair? Fariss-Klutz Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND.

O. Henry Was a Shade Smarter Than the Magazine Man.

A friend of the late O. Henry writes of him: "He was reckless in spending money and frequently gave elevator boys and bellboys five and ten dollar notes. But he wasn't 'easy' despite his financial regardlessness.

"His friends recently narrated an incident showing the man's shrewdness. A magazine noted for 'slow pay,' they said, contracted with him for a three part story for which he was to receive $1,500. He got $500 advance before starting to work and when he turned in the second installment (none of it had been printed yet) got $500 more and asked for the third $500 as an advance before finishing the tale.

"The editor in an effort to save money apparently declared that, after all, the story didn't appear to be worth more than $1,000—this when he had the two installments in his office.

"'All right,' said O. Henry; 'I won't write the third one then.' And he didn't. He laughed at the eidtor.

"'Well, then,' said the latter, 'I'll run the two parts and then let our readers have a guessing contest as to how the story ends—and put up, perhaps, a $500 prize to the winner.'

"For a moment the author thought he was outwitted. Then he said: 'Go ahead, and I'll win the prize.' He intended to win it too!"—Boston Herald.

When you see the word "Mother" on a fence, in the road, in the papers, or on card board in the show windows, think of Mother's Joy, the only salve made that will absolutely cure pneumonia in twenty-four hours. Goose Grease Company.

Although he is known as the Prince of Darkness, the devil doesn't wait till the sun goes down.

Mother's Joy is made from pure Goose Grease, Mutton Suet, Crude Oil. It penetrates at once and goes to the seat of pain, thereby curing pneumonia in twenty-four hours. Goose Grease Co.

Good results always follow the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They contain just the ingredients necessary to tone, strengthen and regulate the kidneys and bladder, and to cure backache. Sold by Howard Gardner.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The average man feels that his hands are tied if he hasn't a free foot.

The young doctor must have patience before he can hope to have patients.

Even a church has its nave of hearts when there's a wedding.

The trouble with an off day is that it is too often followed by an off day.

Many a man is like a dog with its tail between its legs. He has great difficulty in keeping his end up.

The Kind Needed.

"Dear me," said the first young woman, taking her initial lesson in golf, "what shall I do now? This ball is in a hole!"

"Well, let me see," said her companion, rapidly turning the leaves of a book of instructions. "I presume you will have to take a stick of the right shape to get it out."

"Oh, yes; of course," was the somewhat cynical reply. "Well, see if you can find one shaped like a dustpan and brush."—New York Tribune.

Kissing in Iceland.

Among old time laws against kissing those of Iceland appear to have been the most severe. Banishment was the penalty laid down for kissing another man's wife, either with or without her consent. The same punishment was enforced for kissing an unmarried woman against her will; if it could be proved that she had consented to be kissed the offender was still liable to a fine of a great quantity of cloth for each offense.

A Startling Reply.

An English country bookseller sent to London for a copy of a book called "Happy Husbands." The work was out of print, but the wholesale agent certainly might have intimated the fact differently. He replied that "There are no 'Happy Husbands' in London."—London Tit-Bits.

Best Intentions.

100 Million Dollars Worth of Shoes

These are stupendous figures, yet this is the yearly amount that the South spends for shoes. As a curiosity these figures may attract you for a minute, but the most curious thing about them is that three quarters of this money is regularly sent away from the South and the South is that much poorer for it.

You trade at a Southern shoe store. You give the dealer your money. You probably buy a western or northern made shoe. When the dealer pays his bill, this money, less a small per cent to the dealer, goes north or west and the South is that much poorer.

Keep your money at home. Let it work for better times, better wages, more factories, more work for Southern people.

Ask your dealer for The Craddock Shoe. Made in the South, by white labor, for Southern gentlemen. The best shoe value offered by any maker in the land for $3.50 and $4.00. Money spent for Craddock Shoes stays in the South, and pays Southern labor, Southern grocers, bakers and butchers.

It builds Southern factories, homes and schools.

We can support more and better industries. Let's each do his part.

CHARTER ISSUED FOR BIG HOTEL AT WRIGHTSVILLE

Resort Costing Quarter of a Million Dollars To Be Erected.

Raleigh, Oct. 12.—Quite a number of people went today from Raleigh to Clayton to attend the funeral of the late J. T. Ellington, for twenty years sheriff of the county, who died there last evening aged seventy years. The service was conducted at 4 o'clock. Mr. Ellington had for a long time been prominent in the political affairs of this section of the State. He was married three times and his third wife and six children survive him. It is a notable fact that during the twenty years that he was sheriff he was first of all the sheriffs in the state to settle state taxes with the state treasurer except one year.

The secretary of state chartered today the Atlantic Hotel Co., for Wilmington, to erect a $250,000 resort hotel on Wrightsville Beach. J. A. Taylor, M. W. Jacobi, Thomas H. Wright and Geo. G. Carter are among the incorporators. The plan is to have the hotel up and equipped for service by the opening of the 1911 season.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham has commenced housekeeping here, having brought his family here from his country home in Lenoir county and established them yesterday in the Hines residence on New Bern avenue. He has leased this residence. His two daughters, Misses Carrie and Helen Graham are quite popular here.

The Greensboro Fair is being visited today and tomorrow by Major W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture. He has made it a point to visit all the principal fairs held in the state this fall and is finding all of them quite creditable.

Better regulations safeguarding policyholders in mutual and assessment life insurance companies issuing policies for $500 and less are to be urged upon the next general assembly by Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young, who is already charged by the State law with approving the policies and conditions. He wants specific standard conditions specified to which all policies of these classes must conform. He proposes, too, to readjust the rates on such policies, seeing to it, he says, that they are not excessive from the viewpoint of the insurer or so low as to impair the stability of the company. He complains of quite a number of these companies, of which there are over a half hundred doing business in this State, that the books and records in the home offices are not kept with that degree of accuracy and clearness that will enable his examiners to get at the real conditions as readily as they should. All these matters are to be dealt with by the commissioner in his report to the General Assembly and recommendations as to regulations that most apply to companies that are allowed to go among the people of North Carolina for business.

The marshal's ball which is always the crowning event in connection with the social side of the State Fair is to take place on Friday night of next week. Chief Marshal Lyon and his aides, chosen from among the most prominent young men from every section of the State having the use of the apartments and ball room of the Capital Club for this event. The Capital Club will give a smoker to the Home-Comers on Tuesday evening and a regular club ball on Wednesday evening, these to be the principal features of the social side of the State Fair festivities.

The Wake County Alumni Association at its annual University Day banquet tonight adopted a resolution in favor of forming a congress of the alumni to be composed of delegates from each of the county associations, this congress to meet annually at the University. The banquet was a big success and was quite elegant and elaborate, with many set and impromptu toasts.

Of Interest To Visitors To the Fair.

You are invited to patronize the Guilford Hotel Barber Shop while in the city attending the Fair. There you will find courteous treatment, the best service and reasonable prices. All white barbers and every one an artist. C. W. Edwards, Proprietor. 3t
